W. 3rd Site Chosen For Post Office

NEW POST OFFICE SITE. This block-long section of the north side of W. 3rd St. from just west of Market St. to Jackson St., which is beyond the tree at the left, will be the site for a new post office building program, postal officials asked Council to vacate Peach Alley, which is between the fourth and fifth cars from the right.

4 Landowners Reluctant

Council Eyes Court Step For St. Clair Easements

Council will meet in special session Friday night at 6:45 to consider legislation authorizing Common Pleas Court action to appropriate easements across at least four properties and get plans for the stalled St. Clair Ave. project rolling again.

Council agreed to the extra session after hearing a report Monday night from Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper on the work he and Engineer George S. Bloomgren have done in the last six weeks, obtaining work agreements and easements that are required from 39 property owners in all.

ALL EXCEPT seven agreements have been signed, but three are "in the process of being signed or otherwise settled," the solicitor told Council.

In appropriation proceedings, the city will ask the court at Lisbon to empanel a jury, hear testimony from both sides, view the property and then set a value on the tracts the city needs for the right-of-way for the improvement. Cooper did not identify any of the "hold-out" property-owners in a statement he read to Council.

It was anticipated in mid-January that all the easements and work agreements for the $846,000 project would be signed in time for the State Highway Department to call for bids early this month. However, the delay in signing the agreements, compounded by the necessity for court action, may mean a holdup of several more months.

THE HIGHWAY Department requires that all work agreements and easements must be completed and a certificate to that effect must be in its hands 10 days before it will begin publication of the legal advertisement for bids. The legal notice must be published over a three-week span.

Therefore, the city's certificate must be given to the Highway Department 31 days before the date set for the opening of bids.

There's a continual round of bid-openings at Columbus, particularly at this time of year in anticipation of a break in the weather that will let spring projects get under way. The department generally opens bids in the first and third weeks of each month.

Based on the present outlook, it may be late April, at the earliest, before the St. Clair project is ready for bids. Once legal action is filed, the whole timetable will be geared to the court's schedule.

THE JOB calls for a 36-foot reinforced concrete pavement and a complete storm sewer system. It has been sought for more than four years.

Cost of the project has been estimated at about $846,000 by the Highway Department. The Federal Bureau of Public Roads will pay approximately half the cost.

The city's overall share is estimated at $348,393. Enabling legislation anticipates $203,630 will come out of municipal funds and $144,763 will be raised by assessments against property owners. The county has guaranteed to provide up to $75,000 toward the city's share, if it's required.

The actual cost of the job will not be known until the state opens bids and awards a contract. Experience shows most contract prices generally run under the state's estimates. A reduction in the overall cost would result in a corresponding drop in the city's share.

However, the city already has pledged in legislation that the first refund resulting from a

Task Started To Recover Plane Victims

Nevada City Opens Doors, Kitchens To Relatives Of Dead

MINDEN, Nev. (AP)—Workers began the grim task today of recovering and identifying 85 Lake Tahoe plane crash victims as this tiny western Nevada town opened its doors and kitchens to relatives of the dead.

The 81 passengers and four crew members died Sunday in the crash of a Paradise Airlines Constellation against a lofty, snow-covered peak on a flight scheduled from San Jose, Calif. to the gambling and winter sports center on the south shore of Lake Tahoe.

The path for recovery operations was cleared by a bulldozer and crew which followed an old logging road, then pushed through rocks and snow to the crash site.

Relatives and friends of the victims thronged into Minden, a Basque-German town of 550 residents located six miles east of the crash site and seven miles south of Carson City, the state capital.

The fire station became an information center; the Carson Valley Improvement Club became a morgue and Douglas County courthouse became headquarters for recovery poses.

While the bodies were carried out, Federal Aviation Agency and Civil Aeronautics Board investigators were to examine the crash scene in an attempt to learn why the plane crashed.

The victims, all Californians and mostly from the Salinas and San Jose areas, were headed for a day at Nevada gambling casinos when the plane was caught in a blinding snowstorm.

Pilot Henry Norris, 43, took his plane to the north end of the 6,228-foot-high lake for a routine approach to Lake Tahoe Airport.

He radioed at 11:29 a.m. Sunday that he had spotted the lake through a break in the storm and was over the last approach marker to the airport. Two minutes later he began a message, "Flight 901—Nothing more was heard."

Frank Decapio Files For Chester Council

Frank Decapio, 425 Phyllis Ave., Chester, filed Monday for the Democratic nomination for Third Ward councilman in the municipal primary election April 7.

Decapio, 32, is employed at the Crucible Steel Co. stainless steel rolling department. He is a graduate of Geneva College and a veteran of the Korean conflict.

He is married and has a son and daughter. Decapio was an unsuccessful candidate for the same post two years ago in a close race.

East Liverpool's long-sought new Post Office is scheduled to be built on a tract of nearly a half a block fronting on W. 3rd St. and extending from the old Salvation Army Citadel west to Jackson St. and north to W. Church Alley.

City Council was advised of the site Monday night in a letter from W. A. Boers, real estate officer at the Post Office Department's Cincinnati Regional Office. Boers made the revelation in asking Council to vacate Peach Alley between W. 3rd St. and W. Church Alley, as it now bisects the proposed site.

COUNCIL President George E. Willshaw said the new structure is expected to cost $400,000 to $500,000 and the Post Office Department hopes it will be ready for occupancy by the end of 1964. He indicated it will replace both the main Post Office at Broadway and E. 5th St. and the Parcel Post Annex on Smith St.

Boers' letter advised Council the new building will be constructed and owned privately and leased to the Post Office Department. He said he assumes the federal government will sign an initial lease of 20 years, with options for several renewals.

The Post Office Department has followed the leasing arrangement in most of the new buildings it has occupied in the last several years. Boers pointed out the system assured the new structure will remain on the local tax duplicate.

Boers said the tract will allow the Post Office a tract of 50,000 square feet, including room for maneuvering and parking vehicles. The type and size of construction were not specified in his letter.

HE SPELLED out the boundaries of the new site exactly in his letter and said all the properties have been purchased or taken under option except one.

Boers' letter said the site will take in all the property on the north side of W. 3rd St. from the old Salvation Army Building west to Jackson St. and extending northward to W. Church Alley. Willshaw said he understands, however, that the old Salvation Army tract is not included in the deal.

Last year, the Salvation Army acquired as its new citadel the former home of American Legion Post 4 at E. 4th and Walnut Sts. Immediately to the east of the former citadel, abutting Market St., is a city-owned lot used for parking.

THE TRACT proposed for the Post Office includes at least a dozen homes, as well as garages and other similar properties. (Turn to POST OFFICE, Pg. 2)

Ruby Trial Judge Sick, Sent Home

Doctor Orders Him To Bed; Substitute Likely To Be Made

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown, presiding at the murder trial of Jack Ruby, became ill and was sent home today by the doctor. However, another judge took his place.

Judge Brown said from his home, "I've got an awfully bad cold and the doctor told me to stay in bed."

The judge said Judge J. Frank Wilson, another judge of a court dealing in criminal cases, probably would take Brown's place.

There was no indication how long Judge Brown, 55, would be away from the case, which today was still in the jury selection stage after two weeks and two days.

A roaring dispute over a "fact sheet on epilepsy" and charges of efforts to "contaminate" prospective jurors delayed jury selection Monday.

The total persons examined for the jury goes to 150 this morning when hearings resume. Eight men and two women have been accepted, leaving two jurors to be found.

Auto Reaches Pace Of 110, Officer Says

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered issuance of a bench warrant to compel a court appearance by a 22-year-old district motorist accused of speeding 110 miles an hour this morning on the East Liverpool - Wellsville "super road."

He acted in the case of Thomas R. Pinkerton of R. D. 3, cited at 1:24 this morning by Cpl. R. D. Young of the Lisbon Barracks of the State Highway Patrol. The legal speed is 50 at the point where Pinkerton was cited, he reported.

Pinkerton did not appear for a scheduled hearing this morning. He had posted an appearance bond form furnished by an auto club.

But after reading the affidavit, the judge declined to forfeit the bond, which would have been customary in a routine case.

"I want this man picked up," the court said. "Issue a bench warrant!"

Pinkerton was the only traffic case before the judge this morning.

The arresting officer reported he observed the motorist just north of Wellsville, apparently traveling at "excessive speed."

20,000 Periled In Chile

25 Feared Dead, Town Ruined As Volcano Erupts

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — An Andean volcano was reported today to have erupted and triggered avalanches that destroyed the little town of Conaripe and threatened a 60-mile area of southern Chile containing 20,000 persons.

Press reports from the stricken area said at least 25 persons had been killed after the fiery eruption of 9,325-foot Villarrica volcano early Monday, but police said only seven deaths had been confirmed.

"Nothing is left of Conaripe," a civilian pilot said after flying over the mountain valley about 500 miles south of Santiago Monday. "There is only mud and water where the town was."

Other reports said 80 per cent of the town's buildings, including three hotels, were destroyed.

Police at Temuco, 60 miles northwest of the volcano, said "many people are missing and we do not know what their exact fate has been."

Conaripe, a resort and lumbering center, had a population of several hundred. It was on a southern slope of the volcano in the heart of the towering southern Andes.

A radio report said a group of about 150 persons were huddled on a patch of high ground near the site of the destroyed town.

Fund Outlook Brighter For School Board

February Payrolls To Be Met Without Need Of Borrowing

For the first time in several months, the financial outlook appears brighter, the Board of Education was told Monday night.

Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, told the board it was not necessary to borrow money to meet the February payrolls because of receipt of the first quarterly check from the State Foundation fund.

The check was for $192,994.

Hits Decline Under Hays

Dalrymple Begins Fight For Congressional Seat

Opening his campaign for 18th District congressman, Allen J. Dalrymple, Wellsville Republican, unleashed an attack on Rep. Wayne L. Hays, incumbent Democrat, at the meeting of the East Liverpool Area Women's Republican Club Monday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Dalrymple declared the district has been declining economically and cited Labor Department statistics which show the unemployment rate in this district is 7.8 per cent against the national average of approximately 6 per cent.

"New postal facilities and other federal intervention of this kind into our local economy do not constitute growth; they are only crumbs brushed off the national table of plenty to pacify a confused and bewildered people," Dalrymple declared.

Pointing out there hasn't been a congressman from Columbiana County in the last two generations, Dalrymple said he will make every effort to see that it

Authorizes U Thant To Send Force

Also Would Name Mediator To Help Solve Island Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Cyprus was expected to give its approval today to a new small-nation proposal authorizing U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to send an international peace force to the Mediterranean island.

The compromise formula, worked out by five of the six elected members of the U.N. Security Council, was presented to the 11-nation council Monday by Brazilian delegate Carlos Alfredo Bernardes.

The resolution also called for Thant to name a mediator to help solve the constitutional crisis that has brought the Greek and Turkish Cypriots nearly to civil war.

Acceptance by Cyprus was regarded as the key to the plan's success. It faced a possible Soviet veto unless it met the approval of Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus.

Neither the Cyprus nor the Soviet delegation would comment on the resolution. Sources close to the Greek Cypriots said they believed Makarios would go along.

The resolution was drafted by Brazil, Norway, Ivory Coast, Morocco and Bolivia.

The main obstacle had not been the proposed international force, but finding a way to meet conflicting demands of Cyprus and Turkey on how to refer to a 1960 treaty guaranteeing the Cypriot constitution.

The treaty gave Britain, Turkey and Greece the right to intervene to preserve the constitution, which grants the Turkish Cypriot minority veto rights that Makarios wants to do away with. Cyprus wanted all reference to this treaty omitted and insisted on a Security Council guarantee for the territorial integrity of the island republic as protection against invasion by Turkey.

Greek King Suffers

Another Complication
ATHENS, Greece (AP)—King Paul's doctors announced today that the ailing Greek monarch has been hit by another medical complication.

A medical bulletin said the king, suffering from a blood clot in his right leg and another in his left lung, was having increasing difficulty urinating. "Since yesterday," said a medical bulletin, "his majesty the king has been showing progressive difficulty in urinating. Otherwise his condition remains unchanged."

At School Board Meeting

Resignation Of Heasley Taken Minus Discussion

What didn't happen at the Board of Education meeting Monday night was more important than what actually transpired.

The board quickly accepted the resignation of William C. Heasley as a member but there was no discussion on a possible successor.

Other than a motion by Samuel W. Brown to accept Heasley's resignation, board members had no comment nor was there any mention of a successor. The board apparently wants additional time to consider a replacement.

Numerous names have been mentioned for the remainder of the four-year term. Heasley asked the board to give "sincere attention" to the appointment of Herman L. (Bud) Steffen as his replacement.

According to state law, the board has until March 17 to pick a new member, 30 days from the time the letter was delivered at the board's office. The next regular meeting of the board is March 15.

The law empowers Probate Judge Louis Tobin to make the appointment if, a word which may cause a problem, the court is notified by the school board that it is unable to agree on a successor.

However, that is regarded as only a remote possibility, according to some school board members.

Heasley's letter was read by Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, after the board had transacted routine business.

Heasley was elected last November but was able to attend only the organization meeting on Jan. 6 when he, Samuel W. Brown and John R. Woomer were sworn in.

His resignation was dated approximately 45 days after the start of his term because he was moving his family to Ash-tabula where he had been named manager of the Prudential Insurance Co. office.

Although the board voted unanimously to accept the resignation, no formal action was required.

The meeting was the shortest of the year, lasting approximately 60 minutes.

Guests at the meeting included William Wilson, president, and Mrs. Mary Ruth Bebout representing the East Liverpool Teachers Association; High School Principal Carl F. Pelini, East Junior High Principal Clarence G. Means, Milton Watson, assistant principal in charge of Westgate Junior High, Reynold Peduzzi, assistant football coach and head wrestling coach, Victor Smith, a parent, and Mrs. Woomer.

Panel Finds Man Guilty In City Burglary

A 23-year-old Beaver man was found guilty this morning in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon for the burglary of the Good-year Service Store of Walnut St. Oct. 10, 1963.

Lovell Coleman was convicted by a jury of six men and six women who returned the verdict at 11 a.m. after deliberating since 9:40.

Judge Raymond Buzzard delayed sentencing of Coleman pending a three-day period in which he may file for a new trial.

Coleman testified Monday he was not aware that his brother-in-law, Pedro Lopes, and Pedro's friend, William Cisco, were going to break into the Good-year store when they picked him up at his home early Oct. 10. He said he had no part in breaking the window of the store and that he removed no merchandise.

The state had a confession from Coleman — taken by Lt. William McDaniel of the East Liverpool police at the Beaver Jail in which he said he went along with his brother-in-law and friend and acted as lookout. Coleman claimed that the confession was not correct and that he didn't read it before he signed.

The state testified that he was alone on Oct. 9 when the two same subjects, Lopes and Cisco, (Turn to BURGLARY, Page 3) saving will go to the county—up to the full $75,000 the commissioners promised.

IN AN UNUSUAL move, Cooper explained the St. Clair situation in a statement which he read to Council, rather than speaking informally.

He said the property - owners holding out against the agreements "believe their property will be damaged to a greater extent than the city is willing to pay."

He said the properties in question have been checked by Highway Department appraisers "and from these appraisals we feel that our offers have been fair."

After Cooper's statement was read, Councilman Floyd Murray moved for the special session to consider legislation for court action. The motion was approved and the discussion ended.

The text of Cooper's statement follows:

"IN THE beginning, there were 38 working agreements and easements to be obtained before the St. Clair Ave. Improvement could begin. George Bloomgren (city engineer) and I started work on these about the middle of January and have been successful in obtaining all but approximately seven. Of these seven, three are in the process of being signed or otherwise settled, which brings the number yet to be obtained to about four.

"I might say here that Mr. Bloomgren and I have been well received in all of our visits. The owners of the properties affected, some of whom acknowledged their opposition to the improvement of St. Clair Ave. in the beginning and some reiterating their opposition and reluctant acceptance, were in accord in asking questions: 1. How does it affect my property? 2. When will it be started? 3. When will it be finished?

"I MENTIONED there are about four property owners who have not yet reached an agreement with the city. Naturally, this stems from the fact they believe their property will be damaged to a greater extent than the city is willing to pay.

"In order to be fair, we have tried to apply the same rules to those who are in disagreement with the city as to those who have signed agreements.

"In the last week we have received assistance in our appraisals from the Highway Department appraisers and from these appraisals we feel that our offers have been fair.

"In view of this, I expect to have the first legislation ready on Friday of this week to appropriate the easements needed. I would like to ask Council to meet either Friday or the first of next week to pass such legislation."

2 Motorists Forfeit In Crashes At Lisbon

LISBON — Two motorists involved in accidents Saturday afternoon forfeited bonds in Mayor Dean Stockman's court Monday night.

Dale A. Carlisle, 26, of Leetonia R. D. 1 forfeited bond for defective brakes and Gregg Deemer, 20, of Lisbon R. D. 5, $15 for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Both were cited by police after Carlisle's car ran through a stop sign at High St. and N. Market St. and struck a tractor-trailer truck. A Lisbon school bus which had to stop for this accident was struck in the rear by Deemer's car. Carlisle received a sprained thumb and contusions of left eye.

Post Office

ties facing W. Church Alley in the rear.

It has been known for months that the Post Office Department has been seeking a site in East Liverpool, but last night's announcement was the first definite word that a selection actually had been made.

About a year ago, the Post Office Department erected a new Station A building on Pennsylvania Ave., East End. It also is a privately-owned structure which the government leases.

Peach Alley runs north and south. In connecting W. 3rd St. and W. Church Alley, it lies in the easterly section of the tract the government has picked for the Post Office site.

COUNCIL did not give an immediate answer on the request to vacate the alley. Councilmen indicated they will investigate and issue a reply at a special session set Friday night.

Introducing the subject to Council at the end of its session, Willshaw said:

"As you know, there has been discussion for 10 years on erecting a new Post Office for East Liverpool. That time has now arrived."

Then he explained the boundaries of the tract selected by the government and the request for vacation of Peach Alley. Boers' letter was read to Council by Clerk Lawrence Applegate.

"All the property has been acquired except one piece and it will be acquired within the next few days," Willshaw told Council.

COUNCILMEN Floyd Murray and William Davis said they wish to investigate the request for closing Peach Alley.

Willshaw replied that the Post Office Department "needs immediate action — they want to have the building finished by the first of the year."

He added that postal authorities declared if the project is stymied now it may be 10 to 15 years before it will be considered again.

Wellsville Motorist Cited After Collision

A Wellsville man was cited on two charges after a car-truck collision at 7:50 a. m. today at the intersection of 17th and Commerce Sts., Wellsville.

Police said a car driven by John DeSarro, 1201 Commerce St., ran into the side of a truck driven by Harry Pridemore, 1812 Michigan Ave.

Pridemore was headed north on 17th and DeSarro was headed east on Commerce. DeSarro was cited for driving without an operator's permit and failure to yield the right-of-way.

Garage Owners Air Inspection Check Plan

Whether or not to conduct a volunteer city auto inspection check was discussed at a meeting of the Independent Garage Owners Association Monday night at the Orioles Hall.

William Wilson, president, was in charge. The group plans a further study on the safety project. Plans were also discussed for a visitation with the garage owners unit at Stuebenville.

Next meeting will be April 6.

3 Resignations Received

Board Approves Graduation Rite

Three resignations and an appointment and approval of baccalaureate and commencement dates featured the Board of Education meeting Monday night. Resignations were those of Mrs. Tamar Calhoun, a fifth grade teacher at Westgate, who will retire at the end of the term; Mrs. Lois Turner, an elementary music teacher, and Mrs. Margaret Poe, a secretary in the high school office.

THE BOARD also authorized a week's vacation pay for Mrs. Poe, whose resignation was effective last Friday.

Mrs. Pearl Stamateris, a former secretary, was appointed to replace Mrs. Poe for the balance of the school year.

On the recommendation of the high school staff, the board approved baccalaureate May 31 and commencement exercises June 2. Both will be held in Memorial Auditorium.

Salom Rizk, author of "Syrian Yankee," will be commencement speaker. His fee will be $100.

A leave of absence for the 1964-65 school term was granted William N. Capozzoli, a mathematics instructor at Westgate Junior High, who has been accepted at the University of Detroit under the National Science Foundation.

FIVE rentals also were approved by the board. They included:

Memorial Auditorium on April 7 and 9-11 to the Blue and White Nonpareil Club for its annual junior basketball tournament. The fee will be $35 a night plus custodial fees.

Lincoln School gymnasium to the Lincoln PTA on March 3, 10, 17, 24 and 31 for a series of golf lessons with only custodial fees to be charged.

Westgate gymnasium to the East Liverpool Area Campfire Girls on March 14-15 for fire exhibits and demonstrations.

Westgate auditorium to the East Liverpool Chapter of Sweet

Adelines, Inc., on Oct. 9-10 for its annual Parade of Quartets. The fee will be $20 for the rehearsal and $100 for the night of the performance plus custodial time.

MEMORIAL Auditorium to the Little Potters Basketball League on March 18 for a sixth and seventh grade tournament with only custodial fees to be charged.

The board also authorized the installation of "panic bars" on the gymnasium doors at Westgate.

Supt. Paul H. Blair said the school has agreed to pay the cost. He pointed out the "panic bars" will permit the doors to be locked from the outside so the gymnasium cannot be used when an event is being held in another part of the building.

On some occasions, the floor has been damaged by dragging equipment across it, he explained.

THE BOARD also received a letter from the County Election Board advising it of the dates the legal notices for its renewal of two levies totaling 12 mills will be published.

They are an 11-mill levy for general operating expenses and a 1-mill levy for repair and maintenance. Both will be collected starting in 1966.

In response to a question from John R. Woerner, Blair said information for a levy campaign now is being compiled and the drive will be held in April to acquaint the residents with the need for renewal. Speakers will address the various school parent-teacher groups, civic clubs and service organizations.

Blair also reported on the formal invitation for the high school choir to sing at the New York World's Fair on June 5. The choir also may receive invitations to sing at other sites at the fair, Columbia University and possibly at other cities either en route to or from New York, he said.

enabling the board to meet the payroll, she reported.

Anticipating the necessity to borrow money, the board had authorized Miss Liebschner and Harry D. McConville, president, to borrow the necessary amount at its meeting Feb. 3.

Receipt of the money enabled the board to bring its payroll accounts up to date. Miss Liebschner said, and the job of writing checks for both old and new obligations has started.

She reported a balance of $154,719 in all funds, including $126,603 in the general fund from which current operating expenses are paid.

The other balances include $16,030, bond retirement; $7,374, lunch room; $2,124, repair and maintenance; $397, night schools; $2,212, improvement. There is a deficit of $22.81 in the workbook account.

The board also authorized payroll deductions for professional memberships, an action requested by the executive board of the East Liverpool Teachers Association.

Supt. Paul H. Blair termed the request "very valid," pointing out that dues in the Ohio Education Association will be increased next September from $10 to $18. In addition, there also are dues for the local association, the East Central Ohio Teachers Association and the National Education Association.

Teachers who belong to all four associations will have to pay about $52 a year, which is difficult to take from one pay. Payroll deductions also may boost membership in some of the organizations although East Liverpool has had 100 per cent membership in the OEA in the past.

Blair, who is a member of a three-man OEA committee, said other school boards throughout the state will be encouraged to take similar action.

William Wilson, ELTA president, thanked the board for its action, commenting only that he wished the payroll deduction plan had been in effect before January when life membership fees in the OEA were increased.

The board also granted permission for the First National Bank to exchange $400,000 in securities.

Suspected Car Thief, Jailbreaker Hunted

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Authorities in a three-state area are hunting for William Ivan Mullins, a suspected car thief, who escaped from the Scioto County jail early Sunday.

Mullins, of nearby Lyra and Akron, apparently used blades smuggled in by visitors to saw through bars on top of his cell and then escape by way of the courthouse adjoining the jail.

clined to make the application until the commission can determine the precise amount of expense involved in the first estimates.

But commissioners plan to apply for a federal grant to finance the cost of advanced planning once the commission determines how much it will cost.

Miss Tsapis and Ferrari said plans call for construction of a 164-bed home for the aged to be financed by a federal grant under the Hill - Burton Act and issuance of revenue bonds. The Hill - Burton Act would provide roughly half the cost of construction, but preliminary planning funds must be obtained first, it was pointed out. The two planners also reported on a meeting held recently of Planning Commissions from Brooke and Hancock Counties, and Weirton city officials. Hancock must obtain a comprehensive plan before it qualifies for federal aid for road construction. It would cost roughly $6,000, and would cover that part of the county outside of Weirton, which already has a master plan.

Ferrari was named to obtain information on erection of a blinker light in Pughtown, requested by the Pughtown Ruritan Club to slow traffic. Miss Tsapis reported the State Road Commission said in 1961 it would only issue a permit for the work, and would not pay for installation of the light. The cost then was estimated at $275.

People In News

PARIS (AP)—Does Charles de Gaulle plan to visit the Soviet Union? A Soviet official set off speculation along those lines after an hour's talk with the French president in Paris Monday.

Nikolai V. Podgorny, a member of the Presidium and head of a parliamentary mission to France, told newsmen he and De Gaulle didn't talk about such a visit.

But he added: "The invitation of M. Khrushchev (issued in 1960) still stands. The date for this trip will be settled a little bit later."

New idea in life insurance!

Nationwide's "Adjustable Plan" lets one policy do the work of four

You buy one policy, then add or subtract other kinds of protection as often as your needs change. It is the most flexible plan ever.

Include any of these "Benefits" in one Nationwide policy. Add or subtract them as your needs change.

These 4 "Benefits" required separate policies until now

Wife and Children Benefit: Provides insurance for wife and each child. Children born later are insured after 15 days at no extra cost. It also guarantees your children can get more insurance when they are 22 regardless of their health.

College Savings Benefit: Provides money to pay for children's college education. You pay as much as 15 percent less for this plan than for all other college endowment-type plans. Nationwide guarantees substantial interest on your money.

Family Security Benefit: Low-cost, extra insurance for father. It provides a large amount of protection while children are young. Then it decreases in value as children grow older. It is called decreasing term insurance.

"Level Term" Benefit: Term insurance. It runs for a specific term—5, 10, 20 years. Does not build up cash value. It is pure insurance. It costs less than insurance that builds up cash value. Level term pays full amount if you die within term.

These 5 "Benefits" can also be added to your one policy

"Dividend Term" Benefit: Insurance that is completely paid for by the dividends from your basic Nationwide Life Insurance policy. Requires no out-of-pocket expense.

Guaranteed Insurability Benefit: Lets you buy more life insurance—as much as $60,000 more—as you get older, regardless of your health. Eliminates medical check-ups to get insurance.

Accidental Death Benefit: Can provide as much as two and three times the face amount of your basic life insurance policy if death is a result of an accident. A "must" if you travel a lot.

Waiver of Premium Benefit: Self-completing "Benefit." If you become totally and permanently disabled, Nationwide will pay all your insurance premiums for you.

Retirement Benefit: Guarantees your right to buy retirement income anytime in the future at today's low prices. This "Benefit" can save you quite a bit of money when you retire.

Until today, if you had a life insurance policy on yourself, you had to buy a new policy to insure your wife. Another for your mortgage. And so on. Complicated, and you paid extra to have the new policies written.

Today, Nationwide's "Adjustable Life Plan" ends all this. It lets you custom-tailor a single policy to fit your needs, and change it as your needs change. Simple. And it gets rid of extra costs. Here's how it works:

LET'S SAY you already have a life insurance policy on your life and you now want to insure your wife and child.

Until now, you had to buy a brand-new policy to insure them both.

There were drawbacks to this. You had to pay extra to cover the paper work involved in writing a new policy. You also had to take more insurance on yourself.

Now Nationwide's "Adjustable Life Plan" lets you insure your wife and child without buying a new policy and without buying more insurance on yourself.

You simply select Nationwide's "Wife and Children Benefit" and add it to your one, basic Nationwide policy.

You can do the same thing with four different "Benefits" that used to require buying separate policies—the top four described at the left. Besides that, you can add the five described below at the left. Nine "Benefits" in all.

If you'd like to learn more about this amazingly flexible plan, call your local Nationwide representative today. He can lend you a hand with all your insurance—life, health, home and auto. He's listed in the Yellow Pages.

NOTICE TO NATIONWIDE POLICYHOLDERS

If you now own a basic Nationwide Life Insurance policy and you bought it since 1948, you can go back and revise it with any of these nine "Benefits."

'Somewhat Less Funds'

The Senate-House Economic Committee is taking a partisan view of the future, as could be expected.

Democrats on the committee warn that the Johnson administration may cut the federal budget too much and throw the economy into a tailspin. Republicans warn it may not cut the budget enough and throw the economy into an ascending spiral of inflation.

Republicans suspect the Democrats, who are in power, of booming the economy to make voters feel good for the national election this year. The fact Republicans would be doing the same thing if they were in power is inconsequential.

Democrats, of course, think Republicans are being spoilsports when they talk about a Morning-After reaction, overlooking their own attempts during the Eisenhower years to talk up a slump, in the hope of giving Republicans a black eye. So much for political partisanship in economics. It's a bad mixture.

There are, nevertheless, some things about government fiscal policy that are not partisan but objective. We ran into one in some observations about federal spending by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce, a conservative, though not a partisan, organization.

Commenting on claims of multibillion dollar savings in the Department of Defense, the council makes this wry statement:

"Little evidence of specific savings shows up in details explaining increases and decreases in fund requirement . . . It is suggested that definite reductions in defense costs be effected by requiring the department to operate with somewhat less funds . . . A reduction of $1 billion in the $47.6 billion request for the four major line items would be only a little more than 2 per cent and should be a minimum expectation."

It would be that simple. But until it has been done that simply, don't expect cuts in federal spending, certainly not the cuts President Johnson has been talking about.

There is only one way to shrink federal spending — make the federal departments live inside the total anticipated revenue. Give the spenders "somewhat less funds" to spend.

Don't ask them what they want. Tell them what they're going to get.

Patience With March

Overheard this morning on the Diamond — "I thought I'd be glad when the snow melted, but now I can't stand the mud and puddles and grimy streets and soggy ground — and the snow at least helped pad the chuck holes."

There's no doubt about it: March always has been and always will be a trying month, weatherwise, taxwise and otherwise.

But a word of advice. Cherish these last lengthening days of winter, snug in an easy chair. Spring cleaning, painting, lawn doctoring, storm window-wrestling, car washing and a lot of other April tasks lie in wait behind the next two or three snow flurries . . .

Shorter National Campaigns

The French government has applied a gag to long-winded politicking. Pierre will have to be on his toes or he will miss the show when his country chooses a president.

Under a new decree, the French presidential campaign will last two weeks, period. Candidates will be allotted time on government-controlled radio and television during that time only.

At first blush, this might sound like suppression to a U.S. voter who, like it or not, is subjected to at least a year of politicking prior to a presidential election. But maybe a little "suppression" is in order here, too.

We admit a two-week campaign limit would be too stringent here, not only because of brevity but because national habit of political nonchalance would have to be broken first.

Two Of A Kind

I met Cassandra for the first time when I was a child. She lived next door.

Since then I have met her many times. Sometimes she lived next door, sometimes on the other side of town.

In recent years, it was likely she lived on the other side of the country and kept in touch with me by radio and television. Or she let me know what she was thinking by writing in magazines, newspapers, pamphlets, even in letters.

I did not like Cassandra as a child, and I do not like Cassandra now. Sometimes I feel sorry for her, and there are times when I wonder if something I might do or say could jolly her up. But mostly I avoid her, for the same reason I avoid her brother, Gloomy Gus. They're hopeless.

IT ISN'T easy avoiding these two . . . They are bigger than the British Beatles and more substantial.

They are ubiquitous. They have a great act. They peddle despair.

For all I know, they may be right. But even if their brother-sister act of the gloomies were the last word in revealed truth, I'd say nuts to 'em both and everybody like them.

Whatever is going to happen is not going to be mitigated by moaning and groaning about it.

I am of the happy persuasion that most of the awful things that could happen never do happen and the rest aren't worth worrying about because they can't be helped anyway.

It leaves me cold and queasy at the stomach when my old girl friend Cassandra and her unsavory brother Gus pant in my ear, "Jump, sucker, all is lost."

HOW THEY FEEL is their business. If they feel like jumping I'd be the first to give them a push. That's what they want. It would prove they were right.

It is their dim lot to make prophecies so gloomy no one believes them. Nothing gives them more grim satisfaction, consequently, than to see the worst side of human nature come out in all its savage perversity.

If there were no ready-made ghouls, monsters, dragons, subversions, perversions, plots, conspiracies, moral disintegration and social upheavals for them to worry about, these people would make up some.

When they do that, though, they are committed to insane asylums, which is where they are trying to drive the rest of us by their shrieks about the way humanity is going to hell in a basket.

Maybe so. But why not go with our chins up like men and women who cling to sanity and cherish dignity instead of howling and thrashing like lost souls?

As I say, Cassandra and her brother Gus give me the creeps.

way millions are plagued by sleepiness. I am one of the millions.

THE LADY I would count sheep with if I could stay awake says I go to sleep before I have hit the pillow.

I go to sleep reading, watching television, driving my car, watching shows, watching ball games.

I have gone to sleep at weddings, funerals, dedication exercises and lectures. I can go to sleep lying on the floor with hands clasped behind my head.

I doze off in boats, airplanes, cars, buses and trains.

THIS IS NOT to say there never have been times when I needed to relax and had to give the matter special attention. There have been many times like that, and I am eternally grateful to a happy childhood for a secret that works.

I imagine I am a little boy again on the farm during summer vacation. I have called Shep, the "collie" dog, and started to fetch the cows, down in the pasture that lies along the river where wild mint grows.

The two of us are shuffling along in the deep-worn cowpath in the long lane running between fields of wheat, oats, corn and hay. The sun is sinking toward the horizon. The birds are singing. We shuffle along, Shep and I . . . We never get to the pasture.

U.S. Reds Push Propaganda Drive

By Victor Riesel

court in the case of the Communist party against the U.S. government.

THE RULING went against the Justice Department's Internal Security Section, headed by Assistant U.S. Attorney General J. Walter Yeagley.

To understand the full impact of this ruling it is quite necessary to know that for 14 years now the Internal Security Section has been in the courts energetically but futilely attempting to get the Communist party, U.S.A., to obey the law and register on form IS-51-A. This simply requires—under the law—that the party register as a Communist action group. It is no different from other "disclosure" laws covering the stock market, corporations and unions.

A few years ago a Federal District Court in Washington, D.C., ruled that the party must register. The Communists turned to the Court of Appeals and were heard by a three-man bench. The three judges said that the lower court was wrong.

THE GOVERNMENT then appealed for an "en banc" review of the latest ruling. This means that the Internal Security Section wanted the entire court—all nine judges—to rehear the case.

The Internal Security Section wanted to argue that the Communist party officers had no right to refuse to fill out Form IS-51A on the grounds of possible self-incrimination. They would not incriminate themselves, for it is not illegal per se to be a member or officer of the Communist party.

But on Feb. 21, the Court of Appeals refused to approve a rehearing and rejected the Justice Department's request. The government is now undecided as to what procedure should be pursued after 14 years in the courts.

If the department goes to the Supreme Court and is rejected, that ends the effectiveness of the Subversive Activities Control Act, passed to disclose the inner workings of the Communist international apparatus. If the Internal Security Section goes back to the lower courts it will mean starting all over again and will take perhaps another decade.

TO DROP the case would be dropping the government's responsibility to its people. Not in years has there been such intense pro-Soviet activity as there is now across the land in support of the U.S.S.R. This activity goes far beyond the official Communists.

There is, for example, the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, Inc., which is not a section of the Communist party or of any of its official machinery.

The council has just launched a drive for $50,000 to pay for the following activities: To "restore a student director to our staff to go to campuses throughout the country to promote forums on American-Soviet relations and a wider university-with-university and student-with-student exchange.

"To employ a Trade Union Director to go into industrial centers of the nation, to persuade workers that jobs and security can be assured only in a world at peace depending upon American-Soviet understanding . . . Also to promote exchange of workers delegations."

The big propaganda push obviously has begun.

Johnson's New Image

By David Lawrence

Press Conference Reveals Changes

President Johnson handled himself just right in his press conference the other day—the first to be shared simultaneously with a television and radio audience.

There are a host of temptations and political dangers in appearing before a mass of listeners over nationwide net—David Lawrence works. Mr. Johnson didn't try to be a Bob Hope or a Jack Benny or to use the applause-getting methods of any other TV star, but presented himself simply as an earnest, dignified president of the United States.

In choosing not to be a showman, he may not have won the "beagle"-minded but he probably earned the respect of mature citizens. The sharp and witty innuendoes of political combat, moreover, were omitted, as this device sometimes alienates as many as it attracts.

The President's answers were clearly expressed, and he was both tactful and diplomatic in avoiding the pitfalls of extemporaneous comment which have embarrassed some of his predecessors.

MR. JOHNSON appeared a changed man from the days when he was majority leader of the Senate or vice president. He showed the weight of his responsibility. He was calm and restrained and was exceedingly careful to choose every word he spoke.

Take, for instance, the President's way of dealing with the Panama problem. He said he was willing to "discuss anything, any time, anywhere" and to make "adjustments" when diplomatic relations with the Panamanian government have been restored, but he made it clear that this country would not make any "precommitments."

This plainly means that the decision whether to agree to a revision of the existing treaty with Panama will not be made before but after the whole subject has been explored in conferences between the two governments.

On domestic politics, Mr. Johnson was equally restrained and chose his words carefully. He preferred, for example, not to involve himself in the techniques of a court trial and said merely that he wouldn't comment on the Bobby Baker case until the hearings have been concluded and the Senate committee has made its report.

Beseached for an educated guess as to who his Republican opponent in the presidential race might be, Mr. Johnson quietly replied that he himself hadn't been nominated as yet and that these were matters for the conventions to decide.

WHEN ASKED about the "public accommodations" section of the civil rights bill, Mr. Johnson didn't hesitate to state unequivocally that he stands behind the bill as it passed the House. He denied that he had promised to compromise on this or any other section. Of course, this doesn't preclude the Senate and House conferees from making compromises while assuming that the President will have to go along anyway if it's the best thing that can be done to assure final passage.

Mr. Johnson was seated during the press conference — a return to the custom of the presidents of two or more decades ago. He seemed at ease and didn't give the impression that he was delivering a speech but that he was merely conducting a conversation with the correspondents who were interrogating him.

Asked about his first 100 days in the presidency which last Saturday completed, Mr. Johnson said he had as vice president sat in on 35 meetings of the National Security Council, including the Cuban missile crisis, and that he had been reasonably close to the operations of the presidential office in the last 130 years, but that he had derived many different impressions now from "this awesome responsibility."

Unquestionably Mr. Johnson's long familiarity with the governmental scene is one reason for his adroitness in answering questions as well as his respectful attitude toward those who disagree with him or ask questions with embarrassing implications.

WHETHER THE TOPIC was the political or military strategy to be pursued in the Viet Nam muddle or the requested amplification of his recent remarks in Los Angeles in which he referred to the "dangerous game" being played by the "aggressors" in Southeast Asia, the President was as cautious as any career diplomat in his selection of words.

Mr. Johnson didn't care to say now whether he will engage in a TV debate with the opposing presidential candidate next autumn. He said merely that he will "cross that bridge" when he comes to it. This leaves him with plenty of opportunity to decide either way, depending on the circumstances existing at campaign time.

Lyndon Johnson has learned in his 30 years of experience on Capitol Hill that it's never wise in politics to make a superfluous statement or to issue one long before it is actually necessary.

On the whole, Mr. Johnson's demeanor at his TV conference with the press, if continued, will give an image to the public of a hard-working, cautious and sincere man whose mistakes, when they occur, will not seem to be due so much to a lack of conscientious effort as to the turns of fate in a topsy-turvy world.

Wilkinson's Campaign

By Carl Rogan

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—"You don't have to tell me who you are, Bud," said a woman in a supermarket, one hand clutched to the handle of a grocery cart.

And a man around retirement age asked, "Can a Democrat vote for you?"

These and other residents of the Oklahoma seemed less impressed with issues than with fame of the handsome visitor who told each person he met, "I'll appreciate your vote."

Charles (Bud) Wilkinson's record during 17 years as the nation's winningest football coach made him well known in the area. But until he quit as football coach at the University of Oklahoma and launched his political campaign for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate he had never visited the Panhandle.

Wilkinson chose to launch his campaign in the Panhandle and northwest because the area has one of the largest concentrations of registered Republican voters—whose support he needs to win the nomination.

When the silver-haired, 47-year-old Wilkinson reaches to put on a pair of thick, black-rimmed glasses, there's a startling resemblance between him and the man he wants to see elected president of the United States this year, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater.

His backers concede that Wilkinson's fame as a football coach can't do anything but help.

On his second day on the campaign trail, he seemed content to make his initial venture into politics simply a "howdy" affair.

He avoided political controversy in his speeches and when he did volunteer to answer questions, it was rare when issues were injected into the meetings.

His campaign day started before dawn and lasted until long after dark. He drank gallons of coffee.

"I'm a conservative," he repeated at each stop. His great concern, he added, "is: 'Does man belong to the state or is the state the servant of the people?'"

Whatever the outcome, Wilkinson says he won't go back to coaching if he fails to win a two-year term in the Senate.

The seat he seeks is held by former Gov. J. Howard Edmondson who was appointed to the Senate after the death of Democratic Sen. Robert S. Kerr whose term was to expire in 1966.

According to a survey made by American supermarkets, our women do not like to bend over when selecting their purchases from shelves. It has been found that when a product is displayed at eye level it will sell about 78 per cent more than when the same item is stocked at floor level.

Clamor Rises In City Hall's 'Face-Lifting'

Clamor and confusion rose to a new high pitch today at City Hall as a construction company pushed ahead with a "face-lifting" job that will clear the way for changes in occupancy of several offices.

The sound of heavy hammers breaking through walls to cut doorways reverberated throughout the four-story building. The booming noise was coupled with the whine of power saws cutting through building materials.

But the biggest bunch of confusion was created by the efforts of a five-man crew to move a heavy safe from Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi's present office on the main floor to his new quarters a half-flight below.

The men moved the safe out of the office and first attempted to shove and drag it down the nearest stairway, which proved too narrow.

That tied up traffic on the stairway for a long time. Defeated in the effort, the crew dragged out the bulky safe and started down another stairway—wider, but promising a much longer trip. That's where the safe was at mid-morning—wedged in the stairway that leads into the building's main corridor from Peach Alley.

To make the move in the alternate route, the men will have to shove the safe down the stairs to a landing, make a turn, and then go down another flight to the basement level. Then they will have to move the safe across the basement and up another narrow flight of stairs with two sharp turns.

The safe is over six feet high. It stood for years in former Chief Hugh J. McDermott's office.

Some office doors at City Hall are closed against the dust and clamor of the renovation work. The contractor was asked to halt work last night because the noise was so heavy conversation could not be heard in the Council chamber on the next floor.

The building's corridors are strewn with displaced furniture and building materials. A heavy pall of plaster dust hangs over the whole scene.

Exam For Police List Discussed

A discussion on holding an examination to provide a police department eligibility list was held at a meeting of the Wellsville Civil Service Commission Monday night at City Hall.

Ed Welch, chairman, conducted business. Mayor William Daugherty previously asked that an examination be held.

There is a vacancy on the force. The commission will meet again March 17 to prepare a new test.

Further discussion was held on rules and regulations governing the operation of the commission. The present rules were compared with those from surrounding communities and found to be very similar. The commission agreed to continue operating under the present regulations.

Donald Miller and Richard Lloyd are the other two members with Donald Lowe as clerk.

Cleveland Given

Year On Non-Support

LISBON — Harry Thomas Grimm, 33, of Cleveland was sentenced to a year in the County Jail Monday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for failure to support his family. He has four minor children but has paid nothing for their support since July 1961.

Judge Tobin said it was learned that he has worked during that time but failed to give anything for his children's support.

Kublai Khan, famous Emperor of China, made repeated unsuccessful attacks on Japan in the 13th century.

Woman Hurt In Collision

A young city woman was hospitalized after a truck-auto collision on the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. Monday, one of two mishaps reported yesterday by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Mrs. Martha Pickens, 18, of 1014 St. Clair Ave. was in "fair" condition at City Hospital with a possible back injury.

Officers said she was a passenger in a car operated by Thomas Pinkerton, 22, of R.D. 3 which collided with a truck driven by Laverne Seckman, 42, of Calcutta.

Seckman was headed east and turning north into a private drive as Pinkerton attempted to pass.

Mary Pinkerton, 18, of R.D. 3, also a passenger in the Pinkerton car, suffered a neck injury, the patrol said.

There was about $250 damage to Seckman's truck and about $200 to Pinkerton's 1956 coach.

Robert Knapp, 37, of Lisbon, suffered a shoulder injury when his car veered off Route 7 about a mile south of Rogers this morning at 3:30 and struck an embankment. He was treated at Salem City Hospital.

There was about $100 damage to his 1963 sedan, the patrol said.

Glenmoor Man Fined

On Loose Dog Charge

Lawrence Black of Glenmoor was given a suspended fine for permitting a dog to run at large at a hearing Monday before County Judge Herbert E. Arfman at East Palestine.

Black was fined $5 and costs but the judge suspended the fine on the condition Black keep his pet confined. He was cited by Harold McCall, deputy dog warden.

Larry G. Lutz, 225 E. High St., Lisbon, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding.

Trial Of Man Slated With Defense Evident

NEW CUMBERLAND — Simon Feaster, 23, of Weirton, indicted by the January Grand Jury in the fatal stabbing of Willie Fair, 41, was ordered Monday by Judge James G. McClure to go on trial May 18 in Hancock County Circuit Court. Feaster had pleaded guilty Feb. 21 to a lesser charge of manslaughter, and had been sentenced to 1-3 years in Moundsville State Prison.

However, while Feaster was testifying during a probation hearing Monday, Judge McClure decided the defendant "has a substantial defense" against the murder charge and ordered Feaster to withdraw his plea of guilty to manslaughter.

He slated Feaster's trial May 18. Feaster was indicted in connection with the stabbing of Fair during a struggle on a street in North Weirton Sept. 21.

Be glad you have the clean heat—GAS

Where did the dust go? Right into the filter of your forced-air gas heating system. Most resistance heating systems have no filter. So dust stays in the air—to settle on furniture and draperies. With gas heat, all the warm air is cleaned through a filter several times an hour, before it circulates to every room. That clean, circulating air keeps rooms fresh, too. Smoke and cooking odors don't linger as they do with still-air resistance heating systems.

And gas heating costs only about 1/4 as much as resistance heating. Think what gas savings mean to you in dollars over the average mortgage period. Enough for your child's education—or to add a room to your home.

If you plan to convert to whole-house air conditioning, much of the work is already done if you have a modern, forced-air gas system. Just attach a compact gas cooling unit to your gas furnace.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: How about settling an argument? I want to buy a pair of heels for dress and my folks think I should stick to flats. I am 17 years of age and 5 feet, 8 tall. My folks keep telling me I will be taller than most of the boys if I wear heels. I say, "So what?"

I love the way heels look and I don't care if they do make me taller than the boys. Will you decide this for me? Do I get heels or not? — UP OR DOWN.

Dear Up: And that's my advice. Up with your head, up with your shoulders and get up on those heels if you want them. It's how you feel about your height that counts, and you feel just fine. So congratulations, and enjoy your new slippers.

Alienated Affection

Dear Ann: Fifteen years ago I divorced my husband because he was a "Tomcat" and a liar. Our daughter was 2 years old at the time. I went to work because the support check always seemed to get lost in the mail. Three years ago the "Tomcat" married a woman with a big house and a healthy inheritance. Our daughter spends every other weekend with her father and his wife.

Of late the girl has become critical of me, my clothes, our home, our furniture and the meals. She tells me they live graciously "over there" (two servants) and that I could take lessons from her father's second wife on how to be charming. This morning she informed me her father was a wonderful man and that I was a fool to let him go.

How do you tell a 17-year-old girl that her father was a chaser and a louse? — OUT-CLASSED.

Dear Friend: You don't tell a girl of any age that her father was a chaser and a louse. You tell her that you have done your best and that furniture, servants and fancy meals don't necessarily make a home happy. Some of the world's loneliest people live a miserable existence in elegant homes.

Captive Kids

Dear Ann: Our grandfather is 86 years old. The doctor said there wasn't anything more they could do for him in the hospital and he suggested a rest home where grandpa could get nursing care.

Every night after supper our parents insist that my brother and I go with them to visit grandpa. I'm 16 and my brother is 14. We don't see any point in killing two hours every evening sitting in a room with somebody who doesn't even know who we are.

Mom says the least we can do for Grandpa is to be with him during his last days. Meantime, we aren't getting our homework done because by the time we get home the evening is shot.

If you say we should be excused from going at night and just go Sundays we'll show your advice to our folks and it will help us a lot. — WALL-PAPER STUDIES.

Dear Studiers: It makes no sense whatever for teen-age kids to spend two hours every evening visiting someone who doesn't know they are there.

If your mother and dad feel they must go, fine. But you stay home and do your school work.

Confidentially

TO TIRED OF THE RACE: Your husband has a false set of values. Try this little bit of Thoreau on him: "A man is rich in proportion to the number of things he can afford to let alone."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Area Girl Plans To Give Prize To Choctaw School

Jessica Hawk, 13-year-old Wellsville girl who has won an encyclopedia in The Review's "Junior Editors" question column, plans to present her prize to an Indian school in Mississippi.

Jessica, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Hawk, 1821 Chester Ave., won a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for submitting a question which will be used in the column March 20.

Her question was: "Why are all horses' birthdays observed on Jan. 1?"

A student at Daw Junior High School, Jessica received a set of encyclopedia books last year, so she has decided to present the new set to a Choctaw school at Philadelphia, Miss., where the family has visited.

Board Fills Posts

Committees Set By Beaver Local

Appointment of committees and discussion of various school projects featured a meeting of the Beaver Local School District Board of Education Monday night.

Paul Dailey, president, named six committees:

ATHLETIC — Arnold Green, chairman, and Lee Myers; transportation, grounds — Myers, chairman, and Green; finance — William Smith, chairman, and Clayton Aughinbaugh; cafeteria — Aughinbaugh, chairman, and Green; policy — Aughinbaugh, chairman, and Smith, and co-curricular activities — Smith, chairman, and Myers.

The president is also a member of each committee.

Discussion was held on a proposed new roadway around the Calcutta School, to reduce congestion of school buses and permit more parking space.

The board approved plans by the Calcutta PTA to install a parking rail along the school to protect the brickwork from autos.

Harry Greenwood was rehired as cafeteria manager for two years. He is also board clerk.

The board also hired under bus driver contracts Kenny Butler of Calcutta and Harold Baker of near Lisbon. Baker, a teacher, replaces Curtis Palmer, who resigned.

JACK POZENEL of West Point, former board member, and Dr. Arthur Cloran of Calcutta, a dentist, were named as the district trustees for the Salem Center of Kent State University.

In other action, the board adopted a policy of permitting only unlicensed drivers to take the high school driver training course. The board declared the express purpose of the class is to train non-licensed students. Requests have been received from students who already have licenses.

The board also approved tentative plans for the Senior Class to attend the World's Fair at New York, partly during the school week, as an educational trip. The county and state school officials have indicated such a trip may be considered educational with the local board's approval.

Staff Given New Terms

Carl Stacey Returned As Voting Board Head

The Columbiana County Election Board re-elected Carl L. Stacey, Columbiana Democrat, as chairman for two years and returned its staff for new two-year terms at its reorganization meeting Monday afternoon at its office here.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, East Liverpool Republican, was returned for a new term as clerk. State law provides the chairman and clerk must be of opposite political parties.

Mrs. Hollis Conner of East Liverpool was named to a new term as deputy clerk with Miss Rebecca Resnick, also of East Liverpool, returned as assistant clerk. Mrs. Conner is a Democrat and Miss Resnick a Republican.

The three were sworn in by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Stacey and Atty. Charles Pike, Lisbon Republican, began new four-year terms Sunday on the election board after being appointed by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown on the recommendation of the county party organizations.

Holdover board members are Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, Democrat, and Atty. James L.

McSweeney, Wellsville Republican.

The board agreed unanimously to "rigid enforcement" of a requirement that precinct presiding judges return precinct records and supplies to the board immediately after the election count is completed and reported to the board, O'Hanlon said.

O'Hanlon said the requirement is a precaution against election records being destroyed by fire.

Presiding judges in the East Liverpool district will return their records and supplies to the board's office here while those in the Wellsville district are to deliver the records and supplies to the water works office in Wellsville City Hall from where they will be trucked to the board's office.

Presiding judges in the northern half of the county will take their precinct records and supplies to the Courthouse in Lisbon, O'Hanlon said.

The board discussed plans for the May 5 primaries and authorized the employment of any additional help needed for the office.

Advisory Unit Meets

2 Are Appointed To Health Board

LISBON — Two former members were returned to the Columbiana County Board of Health at a meeting of the Advisory Council Monday night in the county health offices.

Glenn Hawkins of New Waterford will serve a 5-year term and Fred Johnson of Summitville a 4-year term. The two were selected after Ernest Phillips, mayor of Summitville, who was elected last year, resigned.

An attorney general's opinion said that a member of an advisory council of a General Health District is ineligible to appointment as a member of the district health board. Hawkins then was selected by the health board to serve until advisory group met last night.

TERMS of Johnson will expire in 1968 and Hawkins in 1969.

Mayor Dean Stockman of Lisbon was reelected president of the council, composed of mayors and township trustees. Joseph Kornbau of Perry Township was elected vice president, succeeding Walter H. Coie of Elkrun Township, and Mrs. Edna Glausser was reelected secretary.

Frank Bezdek of Lisbon R.D. 5, chairman of the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council, reported on his group's recommendation to consolidate all the health districts in the county, instead of the present five separate groups.

He said his group believes it is "better to have one good health district than five good small ones." He asked the Advisory Council to appoint a committee to study its feasibility and then make recommendations to all the health districts.

STOCKMAN then appointed Ralph Kennedy of Leetonia, William Ferguson of New Waterford, Charles Gause of Hanover Township and J. Eyer Hinchcliffe of Center Township to work on the committee towards this goal, along with the County Health and Safety Council.

Atty. Howard Cole, president of the County Board of Health, also discussed the five health boards and reported on the 1965 budget $43,913, which will remain the same as this year.

The group discussed regulation of dumps and it was consensus of most that unless a person collecting garbage has his own dump he should not be issued a license. Hanover Township is going to close its dump because the local collector in Lisbon is dumping there.

Funds OK'd For Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A 1964 appropriation ordinance totaling $669,240 was approved by Council Monday night.

The sum is about $50,000 over the 1963 — primarily due first payment on bonds for the new sewage plant addition.

The ordinance does not include two planned projects: drilling of a new city well and purchase of an emergency car for the fire department and a new police cruiser.

A contract for the new city well was awarded the Horton Pump Co. of Columbiana, low of four bidders. The estimated cost is $6,500. The site has not been fully determined.

Representatives of the Adamson Co. and the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. attended to discuss the old problem of cleaning James St. Creek which flows under the Adamson plant and the railroad on E. Clark St.

The city will clean to the property line and the remainder will be left to the two property owners. This is in an effort to eliminate spring flooding. The city agreed to obtain a cost estimate for the first meeting in April.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Age Of Immediacy Overpowers Uncle F.

"In the old days," my Uncle Frank was telling me over tea, "I don't suppose Penelope would hear from her warrior-husband, Odysseus, for years at a time."

"Not a line about the fall of Troy. Not a postcard from Aeolia, Aegaea, Scylla or Charybdis. All the reports could wait until the 7 o'clock news came on decades later."

"Christopher Columbus got his first scout in the Western world on Oct. 12, 1492, wasn't it? But Queen Isabella didn't get the good captain's cablegram until late February; and there's no evidence that she gnawed her knuckles or nibbled her nails in the meantime."

"EVERY school child knows the Battle of New Orleans was fought in early January 1815—two weeks after the signing of the peace at Ghent—only because Walter Cronkite didn't get the bulletin down to Andy Jackson in time. But no one, to my knowledge, took CBS News to task for falling down on the job."

"Of course, all this has changed. You young people have done that. The couriers of the news at our three networks are on the qui vive now, not letting a decade or month or even a week pass before letting us in on the events of the world."

"As we ease ever more deeply into an election year, a glow has come to Cronkite's cheek, Brinkley's heart taps out a wilder tattoo, Howard K. Smith's mellow voice takes on a strident undertone."

"YOU READ about that encounter in San Francisco, didn't you? An NBC man said he rapped on the hotel room door of a CBS man and, once the door had been opened, threatened to throw the good fellow out of the window if he did not promptly and with dispatch return NBC's confidential plan book on its coverage of the GOP convention."

"The plans, he said later, were handed over quickly. 'You see where that lust of yours for immediacy has got us? The distinguished newsmen of CBS and NBC are at each other's throats and—well, take a look at New Hampshire."

"TO INSURE that it'll be the very first network to report which Republican has won the vote in the primary next Tuesday, what's NBC News done? It's planted one or more poll reporters in each of the state's 302 precincts."

"These leg men—or leg ladies, I suppose you'd say, since more than 200 of them have been recruited from the League of Women Voters—will immediately phone the local results in the NBC headquarters, where the data flow system, or whatever it's called, will be standing nervously by on tiptoe."

"ABC, meanwhile, will have 400—imagine! 400!—undergraduates from Dartmouth and other colleges standing guard at polling booths with orders to outrun the ladies from the League of Women Voters to the nearest available telephone."

"BUT THE NETWORK became miffed the other day, didn't it, when it learned that the CBS people would be getting their telephoned results from local election officials—for pay, of course—across the state."

"These town moderators do not, I gather, have to run alongside the Dartmouth boys and the women voters; they've got their phones in their hats."

"Anyway, ABC has let out a squawk and, when last I read up on the matter, New Hampshire's attorney general had looked into the law books and found no precedent for a repurimand."

"All of this raucous clatter and scrimmaging for the benefit of bringing you and men, two minutes earlier than we need it, the news that Gov. Blink has won the first round over Sen. Clink, or vice versa."

"THE GREATEST electronic newsgathering organizations in the world will be addressing themselves frantically to those millions of busy little hands that race crazily over the dials, tuning in Huntley-Brinkley, then Cronkite, then Smith—Morgan, to see who crosses the wire first. But isn't it a little silly, boy?"

"That's an old-fashioned uncle's question, I know. But while I heard many people scream that the Olympics coverage was a day late, I thought it pleasant to sit back and watch some beautiful salomading that had happened only yesterday half a world away."

"THE communications satellites buzz overhead and we hail them as the symbols of the Age of Immediacy, but who ever uses the darn things? As we're going to bed here, people far away are just getting up, and who wants to hear their breakfast conversations?"

"It's like the hot wire, nephew. If ever there's an urgent call on it, what does it matter if we get the news right now or in half an hour?"

Praises Proved To Be A Real Tonic

This story will be told in flashback style. Recall the mother who was trying to help her teenage daughter keep up her morale when the going was tough? She wrote:

"Why is it that acquaintances who referred to my daughter in the past as a 'fatty', or worse, have no compliments now that she is losing weight? One evening I found her in tears after being told 'You'll just gain it all back again'..."

MANY OF YOU wrote for the sole purpose of giving that young lady the encouragement she needed and had earned, and your letters were used to bolster her morale. Your words heartened this young dieter—here is a recent report. The news is great!

"Your letter and column arrived just at Christmas time and it was a welcome gift. I want you to know that my daughter lost 80 pounds last year! She now takes a size 34 blouse and size 13 dress. Her blood pressure is normal."

"In fact, her health has improved in every way. She has no colds. The other day she remarked, 'Now when I shovel snow I don't get short winded... and I can up the stairs without getting short of breath.'"

"Since losing all that excess poundage she has been promoted to a better position. And, most surprising, she has gotten taller! I know that, being a dietitian, you will be interested in that angle. She's only 5' 2" tall, so those few inches were so welcome. If you feel this will help other overweight girls, please report my daughter's accomplishments. I am so very proud of her!" the mother concluded.

Readers, this was the unhappy youngster who had made many futile attempts to reduce, but finally, under the doctor's care, started losing. She reported to the doctor every two weeks.

THE BONUS reward of added inches was the direct result of her new food habits. Her diet... lean meats, eggs, cottage cheese, many vegetables, fresh fruits, and skim milk. She switched from empty calorie foods to the protective foods which furnished their full share of growth-promoting materials.

In essence, she changed from growing wider foods to growing taller nutrients... and this change of food habits worked the miracle.

She whipped into exercise and tackled stretch-bend-swings with a vim. Also she walked. By changing to higher protein and a positive health program she gave nature a better chance to help her come nearer her height potential. It's not usual to do any catching up on growth at age 19. Cheers for Judy... we rejoice with her and with her wonderful mother.

Snowball Hits Car, Causing 2-Way Crash

A snowball apparently hurled by a boyish prankster was blamed indirectly for a crash that damaged two autos on North Side late Monday afternoon.

A 1963 model auto operated by George Campbell, 27, of 1100 Smithfield St. halted on St. Clair Ave. just south of Avondale St. and was hit from the rear by a 1963 two-door operated by Thomas J. Graham, 34, of Broadview Circle, police said.

Graham told police Campbell stopped suddenly. Graham said he applied his brakes but was unable to stop in time. Campbell told police he saw a snowball hit the windshield of the car ahead of him. That auto halted and he stopped behind.

There was damage to the front of Graham's car and the rear of Campbell's. The crash was timed at 5:30.

A mishap on Walnut St. Monday at 12:30 p. m. caused minor damage to a parked 1964 two-door sedan owned by R.E. Witherow, 3169 Harding Ave., officers said.

The car was bumped by a 1962 model truck driven by John Lombardi of Canton and owned by the Sugardale Provision Co. of Canton. Lombardi told police he bumped the Witherow car while maneuvering out of a parking spot.

A collision on the E. 5th St. Hill Monday at 7:22 a. m. damaged a 1964 auto driven by Paul E. White, 61, of 226 W. 4th St. and a 1958 four-door operated by Frank Verzelli, 32, of 551 Main St., Wellsville.

White stopped in a line of traffic and his car was hit from the rear by the Verzelli car, police said.

Oil Lease Approved By Sportsmen's Club

The contract for the rights on the 134-acre farm was signed with the Humble Oil Co. of Tulsa, Okla. It was read by Paul Johnston, president. Next meeting will be April 6.

Delegation Raps Street Condition

Council's street committee agreed Monday night to confer Thursday at 7 p. m. with a delegation representing Gardendale residents, who complained long and bitterly on the condition of the main thoroughfare leading into their residential area.

The delegation declared that the street, known as Gardendale Ave., is rough and muddy in winter and dusty in summer. They declared the street is a hazard to 60 or more school children who use it daily to get to and from classes.

AFTER almost a half hour of discussion, Council assigned its street committee to meet with a delegation of not more than seven Gardendale residents to hear all the complaints and seek a solution. The Council committee is comprised of Councilman Floyd Murray, chairman, Donald Hancock and James Cunningham.

Murray said he will invite Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vorey, Engineer George S. Bloomgren and Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin.

A near-capacity crowd filled the Council chamber — most of them Gardendale residents.

Mrs. Martha Garvey of Canton St. was first to speak.

"This delegation is here to see what can be done with our roads," she said. "We have only one road in and out of Gardendale and it is terribly bumpy. Cars can't get up the hill in the snow and ice. Children walk up that hill to school and it is dangerous for them, with the cars sliding around."

MRS. GARVEY said Gardendale youngsters also are criticized by school custodians for tracking in mud on their boots.

"The mud ruins clothing, shoes and boots," she said. "Since we pay the income tax, I feel we have a right to have our street fixed."

Albert Garvey of Canton St. told Council a city truck dumped ashes on his street one day last week "and 15 minutes later another city crew scraped them off."

"I think that is ridiculous," he said. "I think something should be done now!"

Mrs. Caroline Phillips of Canton St. called the Gardendale streets "the worst in town." Mrs. Alma Booth, also of Gardendale, said the district has no sidewalks and "the mud is clear over our overshoes."

MERVIN HUPP of Canton St. said he canvassed the neighborhood last summer and obtained signatures in which many property owners agreed to participate in a low-cost street surfacing program.

But the group was advised not to proceed because work was scheduled to begin soon on a trunk line sanitary sewer project that would have meant tearing up the new pavement, he said. He said the condition of the street is worst at the foot of Gardendale Ave.

"I don't know who told you you couldn't have your street improved," Murray told Hupp.

"I brought the petition in, but the street man told me it was no use because the street was going to be torn up for the sewer job," Hupp said. Queried by Murray, he said he was advised by Laughlin.

Murray conceded that Council had anticipated the sewer project would be done in 1963, although it still is pending.

"BUT IF YOU want to get up a petition, I know Council will be more than willing to go along with you this year," he added. He asked if the delegation had any suggestions for an immediate solution.

Pending arrival of good weather, the city can only fill the holes in the dirt street, Murray said. Scraping the surface now would make it "worse than ever," he said.

Then Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. suggested the Gardendale residents form a committee to confer with Council. After some more discussion, the Thursday night meeting was agreed upon.

Murray said he invited Bloomgren in order to obtain answers about the Gardendale sewer project.

Cunningham commented that Council "has been contemplating many things that can be done with the income tax money." The purposes will be spelled out in the annual appropriation ordinance late this month, he said, adding: "I am certain streets will be considered."

Thief Obtains $32 In Purse

An East End woman told police Monday afternoon a wallet containing $32 in currency was removed from her purse while she shopped in E. 5th St. stores.

Mrs. Dorothy Gamble, 1142 Harker Ave., reported the theft at 3:10. She said she returned the wallet to her purse after making a purchase at the Woolworth Store. When she stopped to make a purchase in the near-by McCrory Store a short time later, she found the wallet had been stolen, she said.

The loss included a $20 bill, a $10 and two $1's, she told police.

Meanwhile, several items of little intrinsic value were stolen from a parked truck on E. 5th St. near Washington St. Monday afternoon, police said.

Charles Zale, manager of the Thrifty City store, 1571 Pennsylvania Ave., told police the truck was looted sometime between 2:15 and 3 while he went to a bank to make a deposit.

The thief took a night depository bank bag, a zipper bag containing a bank book, a package containing three bed sheets and two Christmas Savings books issued to Joseph and Loretta DeSarro, Zale said.

Pretty color: finely grated carrot added to the yolk filling for stuffed eggs.

Many times a bridesmaid but never a bride is the role Midland has played in previous WPIAL tournaments but this year the Leopards hope to change the script.

Midland arrived in the semi-finals again Monday night by wearing down a fired-up Shaler five to score a 61-42 victory before 4,323 fans at the Pitt Fieldhouse.

THE LEOPARDS have never been able to get past the semi-finals but could for the first time Friday night when the action moves to the spacious Civic Arena. Midland will meet either Mt. Lebanon or New Castle.

These two teams clash tonight in the fieldhouse. New Castle (20-3) brings a strong club from Section 3, and Mt. Lebanon, coached by Midlander Dick Black, went through the Section 4 campaign with 14 straight victories.

Mt. Lebanon Or New Castle Next

Looking to the semi-final game Friday at 8 p. m., Hank Kuzma, who now has seen his Leopards win 23 straight games, said "both Mt. Lebanon and New Castle are excellent clubs."

THE MIDLAND coach who has guided Midland to three straight Section 8 titles talked about last night's opening tourney victory. "We were rusty in a few spots but when the chips were down the kids did a good job."

"I feel the big difference came in the rebounding and the fact that we moved Hill inside on the pivot. Our zone defense also was a big help tonight."

Midland had a few rough spots in appearing for the first time in the tournament while Shaler already had passed one ourney test in surprising Ford City last week, 36-29.

SHALER, after trailing by as much as 10 points in the first quarter, bounced back to give Midland one big scare in the second quarter by pulling within one point, 17-16, early in that period.

This seemed to be warning enough for the alert signal was turned on by the Leopards who spurred for nine straight points to turn the narrowest edge into a comfortable 10-point bulge.

RON BROWN started the flurry with a field goal, substitute Ted Vaughn followed with a pair of fouls, "Slim Sim" Hill hit a field goal and Brown came back with a three-point play to put the lead at 26-16.

The Leopards walked off at halftime with a 28-19 lead and Shaler didn't come any closer than eight points the rest of the way.

Midland owned a 44-33 margin after three quarters then neatly broke up Shaler's all-court press to build the margin even bigger.

KUZMA'S FIVE fired at a presentable 39 per cent clip but the Leopards have been better from the field. Midland hit on 22 of 56 from the field but was accurate from the foul line with 17 of 21.

Shaler was far below the Leopards, scoring on 15 of 59 attempts for a sub-freezing 25 per cent.

Midland showed a wide edge in the rebounding department, grabbing 45 while the Huskies took 22 off the boards. Hill led in this department with 13 while Brown pulled down 10.

The smothering passing Leopards featured a balanced attack with four starters hitting the double figures. Hill, the leading scorer in Section 8 this season, found the range for 18 points as the 6-5 junior center fired in eight field goals and a pair of fouls.

ROD ALSTON, who sat out over half of the game, came on in the fourth quarter to score 10 of his 14 points as he was the man down court as Midland had little trouble breaking the Shaler press.

Brown chipped in with 12 points while "quarterback" Norm Vanlier tossed in 11.

SHALER, which entered last night's game showing a 22-1 mark, posed a height problem in Bob Thompson, a 6-5, 225-pound senior, who only had one good quarter scoring-wise and wound up with 14 points. Ten of that total came in the third quarter when it looked for a while as if he wouldn't cool off.

Lefty Fred Scott followed Thompson with 13 points and Tom Yoho who had a big night against Ford City in Shaler's initial tournament contest, was held to seven.

Shaler showed a hard-driving team at times but Midland went into a tight zone to halt the Huskies offense.

Oak Glen Bows In Tourney Start, 93-68

Wheeling To Face Weirton In Final

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Not even a little bit of "first year luck" was in the corner of Oak Glen Monday night in the new school's tournament debut against Wheeling at the Community Arena in Steubenville.

The Golden Bears were ushered unceremoniously out of the West Virginia Region I, Section II firing, 93-68, by the fast-breaking Wildcats, who raced to an early lead and won easily.

Oak Glen's woefully weak defense was subjected to a thorough working over by Wheeling's fast-break attack, and offensively speaking, the Golden Bears were also definitely sub-par.

Led by lithe southpaw Jack Marvin's lay-up shots, Wheeling raced to a 27-10 first period lead and was in command by halftime on a 47-20 advantage. Coach Ed Murphy's Wildcats coasted the rest of the way to their 15th victory as against six defeats.

MARVIN, a clever shooter on drive-ins, poured in 35 points for Wheeling, which gained a berth in the Sectional championship game Wednesday night at the Arena with the decisive victory.

But the Wildcats' prospects are bleak, indeed.

Their foe in the Sectional championship game will be Weir High's Red Riders, who beat them twice in regular season, 82-59, and 100-73, behind scholastic All-America Ron (Fritz) Williams, who was in the small crowd of 503 last night with several teammates.

Weir rules a heavy favorite to clinch a spot in the Region 1 tournament March 13-14 in Parkersburg. The Red Riders are defending Class AAA state champions.

OAK GLEN wrapped up its first season as a consolidated school in Hancock County with an overall 8-13 record.

Favored Wheeling utilized its height advantage and swift offensive attack to win by a big score.

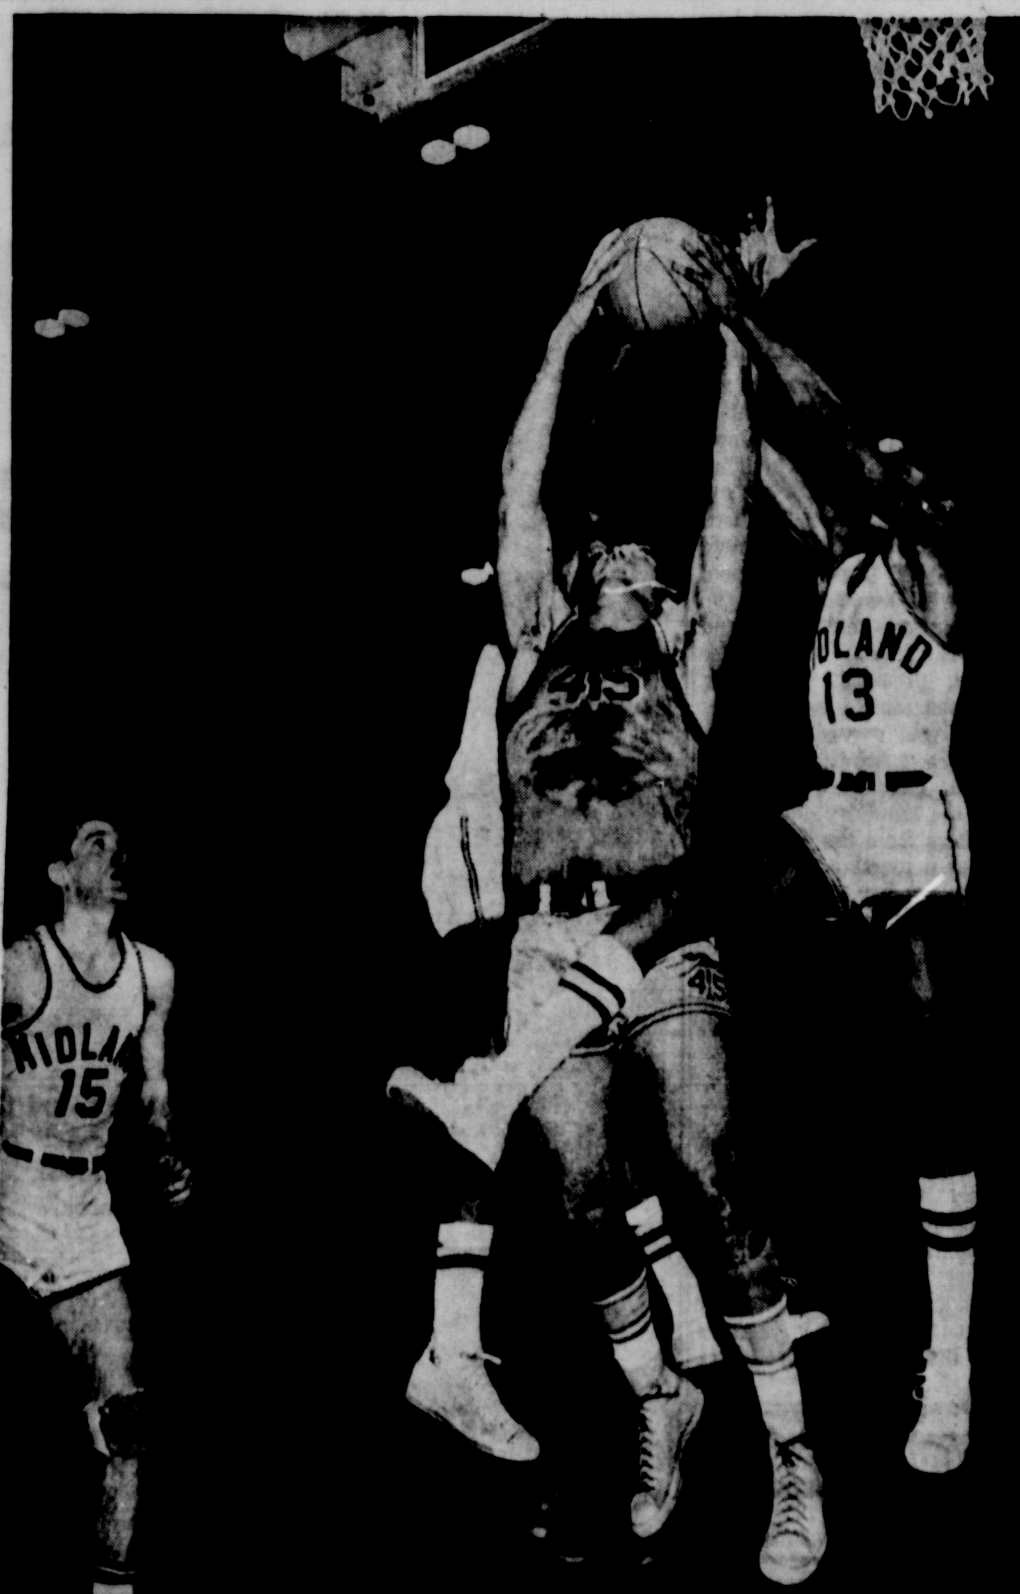

In the pivot for the Wildcats was John Mallett, 6-6½, 225-pound junior, not an exceptionally good shot but plenty tough in the rebounding department against the smaller Oak Glen cagers.

Mallett dropped in 18 points, but it was the smooth lefty Marvin, a senior, who did the most damage to Oak Glen and did it early. Marvin accounted for 14 points in the opening period to help stake Wheeling to a 17 point lead.

OAK GLEN'S defense was unable to check Wheeling's fast break in time to prevent the forwards from working in close, grabbing an accurate pass, and hitting from underneath.

When the Bears worked on the attack, their shots were generally from outside and no one was hitting.

Wheeling tallied 21 goals on 41 shots in the first half, and finished with a highly-respect-

THIS IS ONE REASON why Shaler's 6-5 Bob Thompson (45) had trouble grabbing rebounds Monday night in the WPIAL tourney at Pitt Fieldhouse. Midland's Norman Vanlier (13) gets up high in an effort to tie up the Shaler center while Sim Hill comes over Thompson's right shoulder in an effort to gain control. Bill Haggerty (15), Midland guard, watches the first quarter action. Midland advanced to the semi-finals by ripping Shaler, 61-42.

'Forced To Sign For $70,000'

Bitter Koufax Is Signed, Feud On With GM Bavasi

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The contract battle between star pitcher Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers is over but the scars may linger for some time — perhaps long enough to damage the Dodgers' chances for a second successive pennant.

There is a distinct coolness between Koufax and Dodger General Manager Buzz Bavasi, whom the brilliant southpaw accused Monday of deliberately casting him in the villain's role, forcing Sandy to accept a $70,000 contract for 1964.

"I've been hurt by people who I thought were my friends," said Koufax. "I was maneuvered into a corner where I was forced to agree to their terms or else be regarded as a greedy, no-good bum. When I met with Bavasi the last time I knew I had to sign no matter what they offered.

"They (the Dodgers) planted a story in a newspaper that I would quit if I did not get $80,000 plus a bonus based on attendance and a cut from pay television. The fact of the matter is I asked for just a few thousand dollars over what I finally agreed to. The Dodgers know this but all the people who had read the headlines do not. No matter what happens now, I'm marked as the greediest, most selfish guy in the world."

Bavasi, still in Los Angeles, reportedly is "fit to be tied" by Koufax' claim and a source close to the Dodger front office said the fuming general manager planned to fly to Vero Beach Wednesday to have it out with his star pitcher.

Koufax, who received $32,000 last year for winning 25 games and adding two more in the Dodgers' four-game World Series sweep over the New York Yankees, has not yet actually signed his 1964 contract. His agreement so far is an oral one.

Sandy appeared worn and haggard as he discussed his front office troubles with newspapermen.

"A couple of years ago they chastised me for what they said was negotiating through the newspapers," said Koufax. "But it's all right for them to do it. I guess whoever gets to the papers first wins the battle."

"I agreed to terms but I told Bavasi I was unhappy. Not so much at the terms of the contract but because of the way they had pushed me into a corner."

"I'm no longer angry, but hurt. I haven't been able to sleep ever since this happened. Whenever I talk about it, my voice starts shaking and I become upset. I spoke for an hour and a half with Mr. O'Malley (club president Walter O'Malley) and I probably said some things I shouldn't have, but I wanted him to know how strongly I felt about it. I want everybody to know the truth."

four years. Tonight's winner will advance to the NCAA small college regional tournament to be held here Friday and Saturday.

Wittenberg won the Southern Division championship of the Ohio Conference Tournament by defeating Otterbein, 69-61, at Columbus Monday night.

Randy Berentz scored 22 points to lead the Zips to a 76-53 victory over Wooster and the Northern Division crown.

Wittenberg held a 32-25 lead at halftime following nine ties and four lead changes. Gabe Kovacs made 25 points to lead the Tigers to their 18th victory in 22 games. However, scoring honors for the game went to freshman Don Carlos of Otterbein, who made 33 points. The Otters' defeat left them with a 16-5 record for the season.

Akron built up a 35-21 half-time lead and then coasted to its 19th victory in 25 games. The Zips went ahead to stay after the Scots held a brief two-point lead and the score was tied four times in the first six minutes of play. Buddy Harris made 14 points to lead the scoring for the Scots, who ended the season with a 17-9 mark.

Tonight's winner will meet Ithaca (N.Y.) College (16-2) in the semifinals of the NCAA regional tournament Friday night. Youngstown (23-2) is paired with Le Moyne College of Syracuse, N.Y., (16-5) in the other semifinal.

The regional winner will advance to the national finals at Evansville, Ind., March 11-13. Wittenberg was second in the nationals last year, losing to South Dakota, 44-42, in the championship game.

No Friday Night TV, NFL Claims

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League says there will be no national television of its Friday night games. College and high school leaders say that's just dandy, and all is sweetness and light today in the undeclared and unofficial dispute.

"We are very pleased by the decision by the NFL," said Asa Bushnell, head of the NCAA television committee after the statement by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle Monday.

"We feel it was the wise decision to make to avoid overexposure of football on television," Bushnell continued. "It leaves Friday night to the high schools and the few colleges that play on that night."

The NFL had put a "pre-nature" label on published reports of a possible national telecasting of a series of five Friday night pro games, but didn't get around to a concrete statement on it until Monday. Those reports had brought considerable fire from the National Collegiate Athletic Association through Executive Director Walter Byers and Bushnell, as well as leaders of various high school groups.

A league spokesman pointed out, however, that the decision in no way disturbs a long-standing NFL provision allowing individual clubs to televise their road games back to their home areas, regardless of the day of the week the game is played.

Michigan Rates 2nd Behind UCLA

By BEN OLAN

Michigan's Wolverines moved into the runner-up position behind all-conquering UCLA in The Associated Press major-college basketball poll today.

UCLA piled up 398 points on 38 votes for first place and two for second from the 40 regional selectors participating in the next-to-last poll of the season. Duke and Oregon State collected the remaining first place votes. The final poll will be taken next week.

Michigan switched places with Kentucky's Wildcats. The Wolverines had 322 points and Kentucky 300 on a basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second etc. The balloting was based on games through last Saturday.

UCLA lifted its record to 24-0 last week by defeating Washington and Washington State. Michigan beat Illinois for a 19-3 mark while Kentucky lost its third game of the campaign, 65-59 to Alabama, and then whipped Tennessee 42-38. The Wildcats have won 21.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Since my house is colonial I have dust ruffles on each of our three beds. I have tried putting them on with elastic, using safety pins to pin them to the mattress, and the curtain rod method. But I came across an even better one the other day.

I took an old bedsheet that was just about "gone" and sewed the ruffles to the edge of this bedsheet (after first cutting it the size of my box mattress).

I placed the bedsheet between the boxsprings and the mattress. The cotton of the bedsheet keeps the dust ruffles from slipping. It always stays the same length from the floor and when they are washed in the machine, I don't even bother to iron the sheet as I pre-washed it without ironing and left the wrinkles in it before cutting it the size of the mattress.

Oh, how happy I am. No more troubles with slipping dust ruffles.

DEAR HELOISE: When separating the yolk from the white of an egg, if a portion of egg yolk drops into the whites... moisten a cloth with cold water, and touch to the yolk it will adhere to the cloth.

ANN EMMA COEPETER.

DEAR HELOISE: Besides being a very good safety device, I have found an excellent use for automobile seat belts.

Instead of worrying about that package falling to the floor (and breaking those eggs, etc.), any large package can be fastened on the seat with the very same seat belt you use for a passenger.

senger. Then you won't have to worry any more.

JOYCE.

Now, aren't you a genius to think of that one? Bless you! HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When sending someone a "get well card" please don't seal the envelope, just turn the flap inward.

We who are well have enough trouble opening envelopes. Just think of the trouble we give the person who is ill!

A CARD SENDER.

DEAR HELOISE: Leftover mashed potatoes may be rolled into patties immediately after being removed from the dinner table. Place the patties in the refrigerator and use for the next meal. Roll them in flour and cook slowly in a frying pan with a few tablespoons of drippings. Delicious. MRS. FRANK HUNINGHAKE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a crystal salt-shaker with a shiny stainless steel or chrome top that is corroded. I cannot remove the top to refill the salt shaker.

To make matters worse... my husband put the top in hot water (such as you would usually do a fruit jar with a difficult lid) and now the salt is wet. Can someone help me?

W.S.L.

Can anyone help this woman: If so, please drop us a note in care of this paper.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When making refrigerator cookies, instead of wrapping them in waxed paper which usually makes a flat slide on the roll... save your tall, thin cans, such as some brands of tomato juice or frozen juice come in. If you like smaller cookies use juice cans! Cut out both ends with your can opener. Set the can up on its end on the waxed paper and pack your dough in firmly. Replace one of the cut can tops on one end of the can "tube" and use this as a "pusher" to pack the dough in tightly.

Later, after the dough is partially chilled, the tin can lid may be used to push the dough out of the can for easy slicing. By pushing the lid in only one-eighth inch each time before slicing the rim of the can will act as a cutting guide for perfect, even cookies.

Junior Editors Quiz on ELECTRICITY

QUESTION: How does electricity cause things to catch on fire?

ANSWER: The almost magical force called electricity is of enormous value to us, but it is very powerful, and we must know how to use and control it. The drawing at top suggests some of the appliances which many of us have in our houses today. Insulating wrapping keeps the wires which carry the current from touching each other, and causing a flash of flame which might start a fire. However, this insulation may get worn, and then, as in (2), the "live" wires inside an electric cord may touch each other, throwing out dangerous sparks and flame. For this reason, wires should never be led under a rug, where people walking on them might wear them down. If too many appliances are plugged into a wire which is not made to handle them all, the wire may heat up dangerously. A simple little object called a "fuse" takes care of this danger. (3) is a cross section of a fuseplug, showing a wire of easily melted material running through it. If too many appliances are plugged in on the circuit, this soft wire will melt and break the circuit (4), removing the danger. Then a new fuse must be screwed in, but the number of appliances used must be reduced or this will burn out too.

FOR YOU TO DO: You can keep your house free from electric fires by reporting to your parents all worn places you find in electric wiring. Don't try to repair electrical equipment—that's a job for an expert.

Donna Draves of Rochester, Minn., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

$25,000 Fund Approved To Meet Payroll

Council gave approval Monday night to legislation authorizing a $25,000 transfer from income tax receipts to help the city meet a payroll due Thursday for the last half of February.

It was the second time in two weeks the city was forced to resort to "borrowing" from the income tax receipts. A $30,000 transfer was authorized at the meeting Feb. 18.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper told Council he was advised Monday afternoon there was not enough cash available in the general fund's checking account to meet the payroll. As in the previous instance, he said the city is strapped for ready cash because the first settlement of real estate tax funds has not been received from Lisbon.

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr., chairman of the finance committee, pointed out the transfer from income tax receipts is an alternative to borrowing the money on short-term notes from financial institutions. The transfer of the funds saves the city the interest charges it would be required to pay on a loan, he said.

Cooper said he prepared the legislation for the transfer after he was advised there was only $7,000 in cash available in payroll totaling $24,000.

In the same legislation, Council approved appropriations totaling $2,700 from the general fund.

The principal item is $2,000 to supplement a previous appropriation of $7,000 for renovation of the heating system at City Hall. Revision of specifications led to the increased cost.

A companion resolution authorizes the administration to advertise for bids for the project under the revised specifications.

Other appropriations provided are: $300 each for Council incidentals and Thompson Park incidentals and $100 for supplies for Dog Warden Donald Chapman.

Truck Thief, 11, Up To Old Tricks Again

CINCINNATI (AP) — An 11-year-old boy who stole a truck two months ago and rammed two cars was up to his old tricks again.

This time he did even better (or worse). Police said he stole a diesel tractor and banged into six cars Monday.

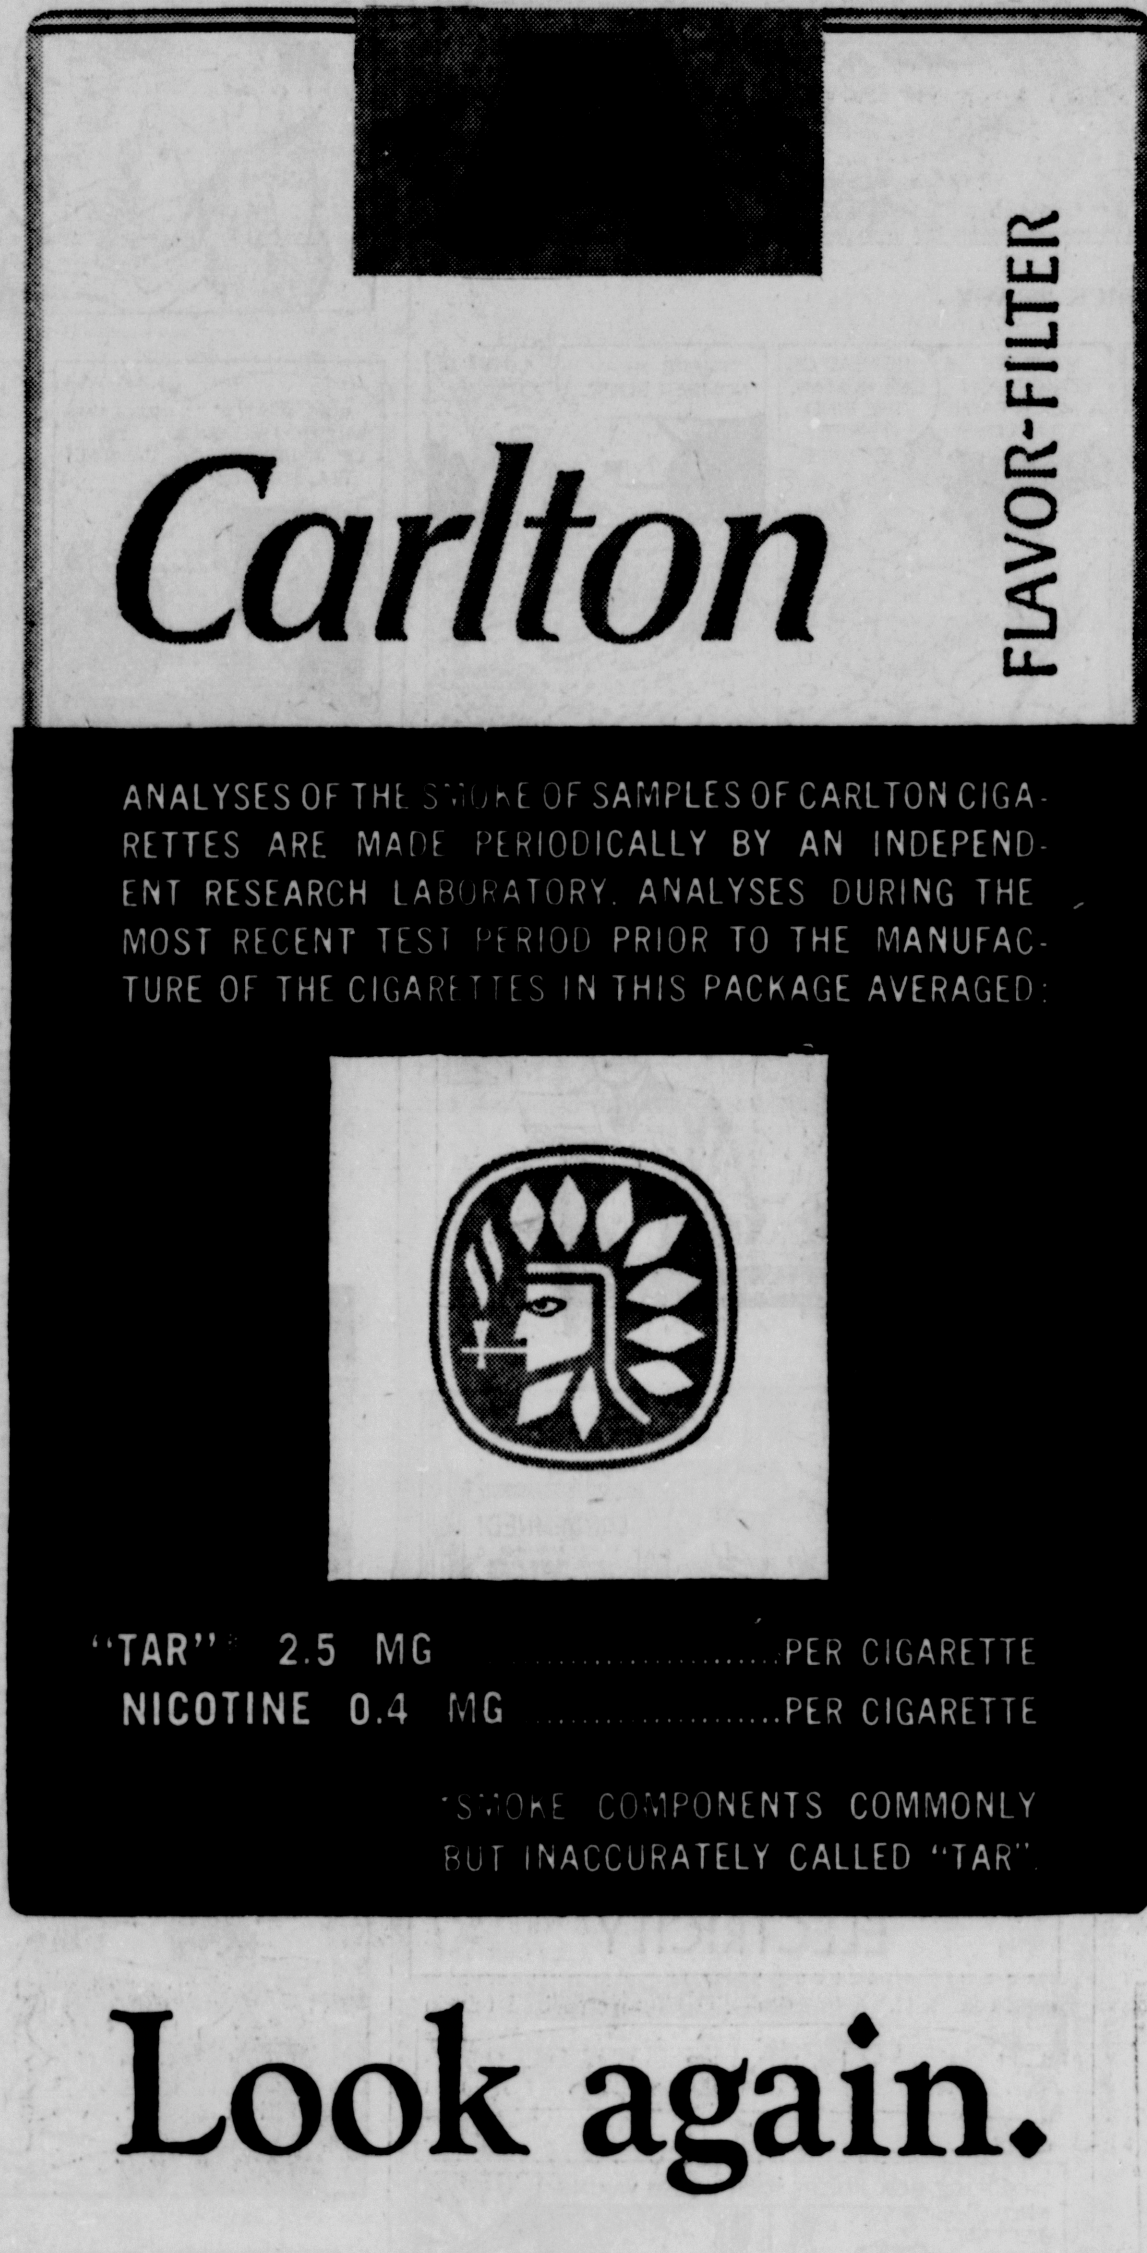

They said the youngster drove for about two miles before his ride ended. He told officers he had been on the way to see his brother but got tired of walking and stole the truck from a lot.

Earth Slide Kills 1, More Victims Sought

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Rescue workers dug through the night to determine whether any other persons were buried in an earth slide which killed one man.

The body of Tillman Webb, 33, was recovered from beneath tons of earth at the Holt lock and dam site six miles north-east of here on the Warrior River.

Six persons were hurt when heavy rains caused a 200-foot section of a 40-foot high cofferdam to collapse Monday.
